Shapiro, All Dead
Ambition Drives
Abraham Lincoln Said:
People
Would Bombs Wake Us?
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The last of the New York Shapiro brothers is dead, murdered, as a matter of course, Willie, the last killed and youngest of three brother racketeers, was less than his two older brothers, and other criminals that considered him a nuisance put him to death yesterday.

He was beaten with a length of gas pipe, that crushed his skull, broke his arm, and with one knotted around his throat, a body wrapped in a coarse piece of burlap was buried alive in the marshes of Jamaica Bay.

Willie, just dead, was only 24. He and his two brothers, who Meyer was the oldest and family boss, were apparently not able to do their own thinking for "Legs" Diamond, whom they followed, died and left Willie to think for himself. Willie was killed, the police suggest, "for trying to cheat in Brooklyn." His older brothers had done this successfully until they were murdered. Willie had been working for his sister, who kept a pawnshop, and was almost inclined to "turn honest," but started in "for himself" again. Racketeers have one good characteristic—they exterminate each other.

A British army officer, Captain Wilson, 34 years old, possessed ambition, which overcame all other passions, when highly developed. He determined to climb Mt. Everest, alone, except for a few native porters, reached a height of 23,000 feet, 6000 feet below the highest spot upon the earth's surface, and there died of cold and lack of oxygen.

It is too bad he had to fall, but such a death is better than that of an old man, who drops into an unknown grave when friends have forgotten him, and relatives have abandoned him.

Every human being has three misgivings, wound up at birth, that make him "wound" as long as he lives. The first, with a great majority the strongest, is the instinct of self-preservation, the desire to continue ALIVE. Nature made the strongest passion because she wanted us to stay on earth to do whatever we are supposed to do.

Next in force to the instinct of self-preservation, is the majority of human beings, in the instinct of or instinct of reproduction.

Last of the three which drove Captain Wilson to his death is AMBITION that has changed us from cannibals to civar, from the cave to the skyscraper, from the oscar to the airplane. When men become really civilized, the three misgivings will be reversed as regards their power, like an hour-glass turned upside down. Then ambition will come first, the family instinct second, and self-preservation, love of life, last. But that change will not come soon.

Business is moving again in San Francisco, where 1000 strikers have returned to their jobs. Wilson picks Sweepogan.

tion the water shortage continued acute. Chicago took steps to conserve its supply to prevent a fire hazard. All persons were asked to stop opening fire hydrants for use at outdoor showers.

PRAY FOR RAIN

At Fort Smith, Ark., hundreds of persons joined in a prayer meeting for rain. The scene was in a theater. The Rev. J. W. Hickman offered this prayer:

"It was here to pray humbly that if it is the will of God, rain may come. If it is not the will of God, I am willing to wait in 110 degrees of heat."

HEAT BEATS CATTLE

The authorities at Fort Wayne, Ind., reported that while the temperature stood near 100 degrees, Ray Schoff tied two of his children, aged 6 and 4, to a post in an unshaded spot as a punishment for getting paint on their clothes. Neighbors called the humane society workers. They told Schoff there would be no prosecution because Schoff was pleased in his belief. She is ill.

Meanwhile, the loss in livestock grew heavy. Horses were reported falling dead in the harvest fields and cattle, ill from thirst and hunger were perishing in the pastures.

Mercury Climbs Higher as Boston Swelters

There was no relief in sight today for Boston's sun-tanned lawns and Sintering pavements. Instead a broiling, parching sun beat down steadily—sending the mercury even higher than it climbed yesterday.

Before noon the thermometer reading was higher than yesterday. And there was every indication that it would go still higher.

Meanwhile, the weather man

LANGER AIDES FIGHT FOR HIM

By Associated Press

Bismarck, N. D., July 20.—Political allies of William Langer, defeated governor, were making a last ditch stand for power today in the face of heavy odds.

They tossed two political bombshells in the turbulent situation with announcements that Mrs. William Langer would assume her husband's place on the Fall ballot, in event of his final disqualification, and that investigation of the conviction of indicted chief executive would start in the House of Representatives today. Langer was convicted of soliciting funds from relief workers.

Contrasting strangely with the busy figures of preceding speakers, Mrs. Langer was observed at a mass meeting last night as "the next governor of North Dakota."

Support and not the announcement that Langer's conviction in Federal court would be investigated, regarding of whether a Senate quorum was obtained.

Hundreds of marchers yesterday descended on the State House to demand a special Legislature session. This was refused by Lieutenant-Governor Ole H. Olson, occupying the chief executive's office by default.

In defiance of Olson's orders, a majority favorable to Langer assembled yesterday for the second day in answer to Langer's call for a special session. A quorum was present in the House, but the Senate lacked five members for a quorum. Langer adherents predicted the additional five would be rounded up.

As the members assembled at the State House, National Guard troops stood by with fixed bayonets.

the pen by a speech June 17, a forerunner of the revolt.

Von Papan, reports said, has sought five times recently to go to Neudeck for a conference. Von Hindenburg is his staunch protector and is believed to have suggested a move by Chancellor Hitler to oust Von Papan from the cabinet following the upheaval which began three weeks ago today.

Another belief was Von Hindenburg and Von Neurath talked over the proposed East Locarno pact, sponsored by France, German newspapers have accorded the subject a cool reception.

United P. Germany, Russia, France, Poland and other smaller powers would guarantee peace in Eastern Europe, pledging mutual assistance against an aggressor.

Several observers were agreed that most likely the two officials considered the international situation.

Added significance was attached to the visit because it occurred during a vacation period, when many leaders are absent from the capital.

ERRAidsSchool for 'Flunkers'

Hopkinton, July 21.—The latest in ERA projects—summer school for backward high school pupils—was approved for this town by the state administration board of the ERA. The project is the first of its kind in the state.

Classes for 25 students who "flunked" courses during the regular school session will begin Monday in the high school under direction of the Misses Ellen Duffy and Anne Gray.

The project was devised by Clarence R. Hamilton, general supervisor of the ERA for Hopkinton. The federal government will provide $400 for the school teachers' salaries. They will be paid at the rate of $1 a teaching hour for seven weeks. Materials and books will be provided by the school department.

QUAKES AGAIN U. S. BANK WILL ROCK PANAMA TALK CREDIT

Panama, July 21.—A second series of earthquakes terrorized inhabitants of David City, in interior Panama, early today. Nearly all of the town's buildings have been destroyed by disturbances of the past four days.

The latest shocks destroyed some damaged walls but there were no casualties.

Panama headquarters of the United Fruit company today announced receipt of a message from Port Armuelles, Panama, reporting a violent earthquake. The message said:

"Violent earthquake at 5:45 a. m. Dock practically destroyed. Lost three conveyors. About ten houses partially ruined. No one reported seriously hurt as yet."

North Andover, July 21.—Firemen today continued to fight the stubborn forest fires here which started last Monday and Tuesday near the Boxford line.

Death of Infant in Home of Burns Under Probe

New York, July 21.—With the death of Baby Irwin Greenberg, of a severe scalding in infancy in the Brooklyn, last week, has faded the hope of his mother's life.

Miss Anna Greenberg, 28, said at her work today. By the theory of state she is employed by Mrs. Weiser, maker of children's clothes, and her tears fell as she fashioned the tiny garments which other babies would wear. She today declared:

"Irwin was all I had to hope for. My husband deserted me. My baby was 3 months old. I have no one in life but my mother and she could not support me. I allowed my child to be placed in the home by the Welfare Department, which paid for his keep, because I had no life to

Nine New Bedford Clubs Padlocked

New Bedford, July 21.—Nine New Bedford clubs lost their licenses today, for periods averaging from three days to a month. The clubs were alleged to have sold liquor unlocked and served state liquor investigators with beer and hard liquors.

Hearings were held in the municipal building. Further violations of the law will result in court proceedings, state investigators stated today.

Reno, July 21 (US)—Cloaked with even more secrecy than is usual, a Nevada divorce has been obtained by Lois Gish Montgomery from Robert H. Montgomery, wealthy New York socialite, attorney and accountant. It was learned here. Even the grounds on which the divorce was sought were not disclosed.

JUNIOR BIRDMEN OF AMERICA

LAWRENCE SHAW
National Director

By L. F. ROSS

Junior Birdmen Commander
The first two winners of the Punyphone Contest, Junior Birdmen, are Arthur W. McLean, No. 1141, of 50 Hyde Park avenue, Forest Hills and Rose Mercuro, No. 6885, of 33 Main street, Somerville. They will each receive a one dollar bill, to be mailed to them on Monday.

Arthur's joke was!

MUMS THE WORD!
Sandy McDougal was offered a free ride in an airplane by a pilot who he would promise not to utter a single word while he was off the ground. If he spoke while in the air, the ride would cost him $5. Sandy and his wife snapped up the offer.

As they were about to land after the trip, the pilot called to Sandy and congratulated him on never making a sound through all the hair-raising stunts.

"Yes," Sandy admitted, "but I came very close to saying something when my wife fell out!"

Rose's joke reads this way:

Ten years had been ordered to play with his little brother in the back yard. Little Brother had been in the house for a long time. "Ten," called the mother, "what is your brother crying about?"

"He drew a picture of an airplane in the ground with a stick," was the reply, "and he's yelling because he can't bring it in the house."

Quite a number of Junior Birdmen were in the same joke and some of these are printed below in order that they will be entered again:

ROOSEVELT WILL TELL HAWAII OF 'NEW DEAL'

By Universal Service

Washington, July 21—President Roosevelt is planning to make a speech in Honolulu next week outlining a "new deal" in relations between the United States and the Hawaiian Islands.

The speech probably will be made at the Honolulu hotel where he will briefly on general relations between the two nations of the Pacific, but the President has been urged by his advisers here to confine his remarks to island problems.

TO TREAT LOCAL TOPICS

Major exports from the various Pacific island groups, and the President's interest in such matters will form the major portion of the text. The Chief Executive followed this suggestion called him.

Originally, a general international broadcast of the speech was contemplated with the thought that it might emphasize increased friendships between the country and the Orient as well as the island positions.

It has been found virtually impossible to bring a broadcast satisfactorily from the Pacific islands to this country.

DRIFT, DOCTRINE PLAN

Despite the geographical advantages of an international speech, a Honolulu representative of the Executive's advisers have argued that a broadcast of international relations in a speech which would be heard only by the islanders.

Plans for the international broadcast of the President's address next Saturday were abandoned today.

10,000 GUARDS START MOVE

appearance of World War days again with nearly 10,000 members of the National Guard moving in from the north and other training camp sites.

Brigadier General Daniel Needham, chairman of the State Command, said today that the largest troop movement of the day, that of the overland march of the 10,000 guards, started today.

The brigade, entirely unopposed, moved from New Hampshire and Vermont before reaching the destination at Fort Ethan Allen, in Western Vermont.

The brigade will move from all parts of the state to Fort Devens from where the unit will start to be made tomorrow morning.

The start from Fort Devens will be made in two columns under the guidance of Major Charles W. Gallagher, 1st division, and Major E. Jenkins, of the regular army, with one column following the route by way of Fitchburg and Winchester to White River Junction and the second, traveling to White River Junction by Newport and Lebanon, N. H.

Along another organization returning from camp today are units of the 26th Division which completed training at Fort Devens about two weeks ago and will proceed tomorrow.

CAPE FOG HALTS U. S. IN WAR ON DELAYED SHIPS

By Associated Press
Baltimore, July 21—Continued shipping delay today the tip of Cape Cod today as the heaviest fog of the season added to the confusion of the delay caused by disabling of the railroad draw over the Cape Cod canal.

The canal has been closed since yesterday when an oil barge crashed the span, knocking it out of line. It was the second accident to the bridge in two weeks and it was doubtful if water traffic through the canal could be restored before Sunday.

Large ships bound for the canal shifted their course to pass around the tip of the Cape. All shipping except along at reduced speed. The canal closed the canal or anchored at its entrance.

Further, the canal, general manager of the Cape Cod Steamship Company, announced the regular trips of the steamer Steel Pier to the state pier in the canal would be canceled today and next Sunday.

You can see Boston Harbor daily from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the new steel pier located on the fourth floor of the N. Y. World Co.

J. P. Morgan in England
Southampton, Eng., July 21 (AP)—J. P. Morgan, American financier, was expected to leave Southampton today after a voyage from the United States.

Five Russian planes over Washington, dropping war messages, might make even the English air fleet within 210 miles of the French fleet.

Somewhere in England seems to know that a plane 30,000 feet up, out of reach of anti-aircraft guns, practically out of sight, moving 200 miles an hour, dropping explosives and poison gas, has a considerable advantage over troops on the ground, as an eagle has the advantage over a crowing rooster. Unlike the eagle, the airplane need not come down to do its work.

Millions Lost in Strikes

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Washington gives us an idea of how much strikes cost the working man. The boys have lost fifteen million working days this year.

They sacrificed fifty million dollars in wages in six months. That ain't hay.

Like a fishing story, the returns are not all in. It can always be added to.

We heard Mayor Ross of San Francisco on the air Thursday. He seemed both happy and worried. Something like a proud mother when you just get a year off for good behavior.

Seems that it would be a good thing for everybody a stopped talking about labor and capital. There ain't much difference between an employer and his employee, a contractor and his mason or a farmer and his hired hand.

The only difference is that the boss does the worrying. If you want to become a boss, don't forget that Ben Franklin did it with a trip from Boston to Philadelphia and a loaf of bread.

You Hear Him on the Radio Moonlight Sails On Club Calendar

By WILLIAM J. BROOKS
There are several moonlight sails held for next week's activities by the clubs and associations of Greater Boston, outstanding of which are those of the Donegal Association and the Boston Police Association.

Both moonlight frolics are scheduled for Thursday evening. The Donegal sail is aboard the Dorothy Bradford, and the Legion, the Albatross.

Concord Grange will conduct its annual picnic and frolic tomorrow at Rindge, New Hampshire, with Thomas Dufferer as chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

Manfield Lodge, Sons of Italy, will initiate 30 new members into their order tomorrow afternoon at ceremonies to be conducted at the home of the Order of the Sons of Italy in America at Pratt street in Chelsea, Mass.

Lodge Christopher Columbus No. 109 will conduct the installation ceremony with Arthur DeLoane acting as presiding officer.

An exhibition, presented by the Concord Art Association, will open today at the Concord Art Center. Works of portrait, figure, and landscape will be exhibited by noted artists.

Past Noble Grands Association of Elizabeth Rebekah Lodge of Reading, will be the guests of Mrs. Maude Clapp at her camp at Cobble Pond, Windham, N. H., next Wednesday. Aiding Mrs. Clapp are Mrs. L. R. Johnson, Mrs. Helene Bishop and Mrs. Clara M. Hodson.

The South Boston Yacht Club will hold their regular meeting next Wednesday evening in the clubhouse.

TWO ROB, STRIP CAB DRIVER

Westfield, July 21—Two bandits kidnaped Edward Soden, a taxi driver, brought him to the outskirts of this city, and drove away in his cab after stripping him of his clothing and leaving him bound hand and foot in some bushes.

He told police the men took his license and registration in addition to $25. Neighbors heard his cries and rescued him. He described the men as about 21 years old.

Treasure Hunt Fun Awaits Paragon Park Crowds

One more day before the big Sunday Adventure Treasure Hunt begins at Paragon Park—with 38 prizes offered the lucky ones. The prizes in cash and 250 for the amusements there.

Tomorrow, the Treasure Hunt is on at the famed Nantasket Beach amusement park, with the necessary coupon appearing in tomorrow's issues of the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Treasure certificates will be placed in envelopes and on each of the certificates will be marked the prize for the finder. Several fine and valuable prizes are among the cash awards, as well as many strip tickets for all the amusements in the park and round-trip rides on the Nantasket steamboat.

All anyone has to do to join the treasure hunt and participate in the rewards is to clip out the certificate from the Boston Sunday Advertiser next Sunday and go to Paragon Park.

The certificate in the Sunday Advertiser is necessary. Should you be lucky and find a treasure certificate hidden at Paragon Park, take the two certificates to the Administration building and cash in. Whatever you win will be plainly marked on the certificate that you find, but you must have both certificates in order to get your prize.

FLOOD OF ORIGINAL STORIES IN STUDIOS AS A RESULT OF CENSORIAL AGITATION

Navy Picture Adds Zest at Met

By AL DUFFY

"Here Comes the Navy," the feature picture at the Metropolitan this week is just about the best of the summer crop of talkies. It's a searing yarn, fresh with the salty tang of the sea and packed with some swell comedy that kept the Thursday night audience at the Met laughing from start to finish.

In it Jimmy Cagney, who is re-featured with Pat O'Brien, seems to have broken the flux of mediocre pictures which have been pleasing him these past months. At any rate, there's no denying the fact that "Here Comes the Navy" is a cracker-jack story with an unusually good role for him and he makes the most of his opportunity by crashing through with a performance such as those which first put his name up in lights.

Most of the action of the story is set against a colorful naval background. We first meet Cagney when he joins the navy to catch up with a hard-boiled officer (O'Brien), against whom he is nursing a grudge.

We follow him through his preliminary training at the San Diego Naval Station, and then into the U. S. S. "Arizona," aboard which most of the atmospheric shots of the picture were made.

Needless to say, Jimmy catches up with his man here, his revenge is complicated, first, by the strict discipline aboard ship, and falls in love with the C. P. O.'s sister. The later action in the picture is at a naval airport and aboard the U. S. S. "Drummond." The action builds up, with many a laugh and a chuckle, to a stirring and dramatic climax, and the final shots are one of the most hilarious wedding scenes we've ever seen on the screen—or anywhere else, for that matter.

Cagney and O'Brien are great, but not one whit better than Frank McHugh, who handles the comely antagonist like the veteran trouper he is. Gloria Stuart provides the heart throbs in a thoroughly satisfying manner and the officers and enlisted personnel of the navy in their stuff with a zip and a flourish that will give you many a thrill.

Tiny Shirley at Bowdoin

Beginning tomorrow at the Bowdoin Square, Hollywood-izable little star, Shirley Temple, heads an excellent bill in "Baby Take a Bow," latest of the diminutive's successes. Also in the cast of this delightfully entertaining film story, as a companion piece to "I Give My Love," with Paul Lukas and Wynne Gibson playing the leads in a dramatic story from the pen of Vicki Baum, who also authored "Grand Hotel."

There is an excellent vaudeville bill of top-line favorites, and another of the hilarious Charlie Chase comedies entitled "Til Take Vanilla."

Phil Spitalny Triumphs With Girl Acts at Orpheum

By JOYCE DANA

There wasn't any doubt about the genuine warmth of the welcome Boston gave yesterday at Loew's Orpheum to Phil Spitalny. Thousand applause followed every appearance of the noted band leader, whom Boston has always regarded as first in their hearts and foremost in their musicianship. He's been absent far too long, and when he returned to town surrounded by the most unique and pretentious girl band act on the boards today, there were friends and fans ready and waiting to voice an enthusiastic approval. He's a favorite on the air, too, but his radio fans should have heard that Boston welcome!

Whatever prejudices you may have entertained against exclusively feminine musical aggregations be prepared now to have them completely and forever dispelled. From more than a thousand talented applicants, Spitalny has picked just 22 beautiful music makers, who offer a challenge to any band on the air or back of the footlights, regardless of sex. From their opening medley of favorites, through an extraordinarily clear arrangement of the provocative and impish, rhythms of Ravel's classic "Bolero," they're musical perfection to anybody's taste.

There's a Glee Club, too, which harmonizes "That Certain Thing" in novel fashion, and there's a strikingly pretty Maxine Marlowe, who sings "baritone" that's not much like somebody's brother's tenor. It's a sweet voice and Maxine puts her songs over with a punch.

By HARRIS MORGAN

Esquianse and romance won't mix in real warfare. Lovely ladies can sometimes keep a secret, even when the fate of nations depends upon their silence, but not when they fall in love.

Mary Jane Kane is one of the young musical comedy stars of "Life Begins at 8:30," the new song and dance show which opens the new season a week from Monday at the Shubert Theatre.

The exciting story is an original of Len Hurst and takes the lovely Annemarie on a conquest of the sinister and double-crossing Al Ben, commander-in-chief of the Dardanelles, who will sell the secrets of the fortifications to the highest bidder. Matters are complicated and considerably enlivened by the C. P. O.'s sister, who is a dashing American medical student, and the inevitable love triangle and the inevitable romance.

We won't come right out and tell you who and what wins the shrimps. You probably can guess. In any event, it's won only after Annemarie believes her lover has been executed, and after the treacherous Al Ben has been executed and court-martialed.

Miss Loy makes the most of a new opportunity to star, indeed her acting and charm have never been more admirably displayed. George Brent is engaging and impetuous, and delightfully convincing in his love-making interludes with Miss Loy, of which there are plenty. Lionel Atwell, suave and impressively sentimental, plays Von Sturm, head of the espionage ring, and C. Henry Gordon achieves the splendidly villainous role of the C. P. O.'s sister. There's about everything in the way of excitement and romance, adventure one could ask for, and discover in "Stamboul Quest."

Shorter screen substitutes include Charles (Chico) Sale, this time the heroic lieutenant instead of the "specialist" in "Old Shon," which will please dug lovers and another Walt Disney Silly Symphony, a Fitzgibbon travesty of the Emerald Isle and Henry Metrowine. News complete a balanced and entertaining screen program. Rodney May, young and popular Boston tenor, returns in a program of songs.

Movie Clock Outdoor Film at Fine Arts

A stirring adventure of man's conquest of Mt. Jomang, one of the mountains of the Himalayas, provides one of the most striking and unusual of films at the Fine Arts Theatre. A band of intrepid explorers, led by Dr. G. Dyrenforth, set forth on the hazardous task in the role of the world's bravest, furthest ranging mountain climbers, using one member of their band, and a climber, the one woman of the expedition, to what seemed certain death at the foot of a glacial abyss. The voice of Lowell Thomas adds to the mass drama of "The Throne of the Gods." Mr. Thomas is no inexperienced outdoor fortune teller, and describes in graphic style the story of the expedition, picking up the party in Venice and leading them through California, Bombay and the Suez Canal to their eventual goal 25,000 feet into the heavens. Here the thrills are not synthetic, but actual experience that used no doubt, had no rehearsal and of which there could be no retakes.

'beacon hill' FALMOUTH VILLAGE PARTY FOR NURSES PLANNED FOR AUGUST

By Betty Alden

THE SUBSCRIBERS FOR the Mornings of Diversion, which were sponsored last season by Mrs. William Dana Orcutt will be interested to learn that she has at last yielded to their requests to continue the Mornings, which proved so delightful and popular that many persons took a second season for granted. Mrs. Orcutt really had no intention of continuing another year but the wish of the many has made a second series inevitable.

FRANCES PROCTOR

Special attention is called to the change in the morning... from Monday to Thursday. This change is made in order to avoid an occasional conflict in dates, which unexpectedly occurred last season with Mrs. Fleming's course. If society is not well informed this season, it will not be for a dearth in literary mornings, mornings of diversion, morning musicales and coffee classes. They are off to a better start than ever according to the various chairmen of the committee and many charities will benefit.

The first date of the Diverting Mornings will be Thursday, November 8, at 11 in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Statler. Mrs. Orcutt has been fortunate in assembling an array of exceptional excellence and a great variety of talent. All of the artists have international reputations. We would be more impressed if Mrs. Orcutt's own name were down for a lecture, as we enjoy her talks more than those of her visiting artists.

Princess to Tell of China

THE GLAMOROUS PRINCESS DER LING will relate her personal experiences as "A Princess at the Manchu Court." As first lady-in-waiting to the late Empress Dowager of China, Tsu-Hui, the last of the imperial rulers of that mysterious country, who ruled China with an iron hand for more than 50 years, the princess has a unique opportunity to observe the characteristics of that remarkable woman and she throws a new light on one of the most extraordinary personalities of modern times. She will wear one of her own court robes.

On January 19, the Falmouth will bring a vivid program to the third Mornings of Diversion, "From the Baltic to the Black Sea in Song and Story." While in Europe, singing as guest star with Italian and German opera companies, she met and married a military attaché to the United States Diplomatic Service in Eastern Europe. She was native costume.

Leopold to Play Wagner Aids

RALPH LEOPOLD, eminent pianist and internationally recognized authority on music drama of Richard Wagner, will play his original transcriptions for the music of those music dramas. Every year he gives a series of recitals of Wagnerian opera in New York and other music centers of America, but this will be the first time Boston has had the opportunity to hear him.

On February 7, society will be interested to see and hear William Graves Perry, architect for the Williamsburg restoration, who will present "The Personality of American Colonial Houses."

Still in search of romance and adventure, Richard Halliburton will bring his Flying Carpet to you on February 28 with a sweep of the winds, a bit of sea, and the glamour of strange places. His dauntless spirit is infectious.

Fashion Show at Del Monte's

SUMMER FASHION SHOWS are even more popular than winter ones and when Mrs. William Higgins announces a Hickson Fashion Parade at Del Monte's for the benefit of the Christopher Shop on August 27, it means the first show in fall French designs (Vionnet, Moynihan, and others for which Hickson's is famous), now being given in Paris by the same designer. An outpouring of society's smartest for a day in that delightful pavilion-by-the-sea. A group of debutantes and smart young matrons will walk down fashion's runway and a tea and cabaret will provide entertainment. Mrs. Higgins is enjoying the ocean breezes at Turk's Head Inn at Rockport this summer.

DANCING DOWN BY THE SEA last evening at the Eastern Yacht Club, we glimpsed a group of young post-debutantes and their swains. Frances Proctor in a cool green chiffon, Miss Allen wearing a romantic cluster of violets on a blue frock, Margo Emerson, prettier than ever in fern green and the two inseparables, Connie Turner and Lucy Rantoul with favored ones scintillating to Jack Marchand's melodious on the musicalized verandah. Mrs. Paul Rust, Jr., was in a group which included the attractive Mrs. James Cunningham Gray, Jr. We left to the shouts of the young folks trusting the hand to play on... and on... it was a grand party!

The B. Nason Hamiltons of Dedham have departed for different parts of the globe... Mrs. Hamilton has sailed for travel abroad and Mr. Hamilton has gone down to Dennis on the Cape, with his children and debutante daughter, Rosamund.

ALSO SAILING on the Bremen this week are the Tabot Bakers (Polly Baker) of Medford.

THERE IS REJOICING in Plymouth that the Charles Stones of New York have opened their beautiful estate on the shores of Manomet, which has been closed several years.

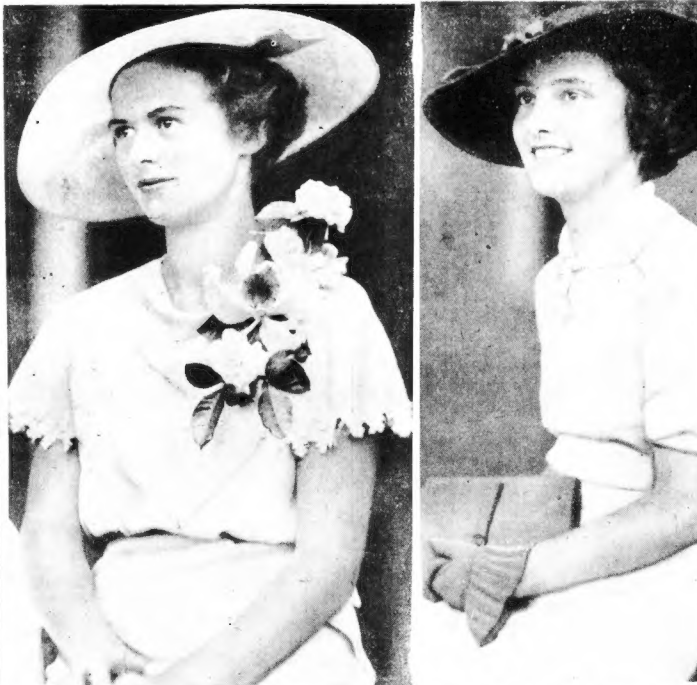

Gounod at Fens Stadium

Another in the series of Sunday night concerts at the Fens Stadium, adjoining the Rose Garden at the rear of the Boston Art Museum, given by the Boston Municipal Orchestra for the outdoor public, artistically and acoustically, and with Nature's most picturesque adornment, will have for its program tomorrow night, starting at 8:30:

- Processional, "Queen of Sheba" (Gounod)
- Overture, "Marrage of Figaro" (Mozart)
- Concert Waltz, La Baccarole (Waldteufel)
- Bassoon Solo
- Excerpts from "Tannhauser" (Wagner)
- Lydl, Glowern

During the evening there will be groups of songs by the grand chorus of mixed voices specially organized and trained for these concerts.

FLOWERS CAST COOL SHADOWS FOR DEBUTANTE

At the debutante luncheon in honor of Miss Ann Cole, above, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Cole, 24, of North Andover, decorative sprays of diphysanthus were used on the tables of the dining room at the Essex Country Club at Manchester.

Miss Cole's guests included Miss Polly Wardwell, shown at the right, above, and a score of other debutantes from Boston and New York City. (Pictures by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

Cecilian Guild Supper Dance Will Be Held August 3

Once again the year has rolled around and the annual supper dance of the Cecilian Guild has been announced for Friday, August 3, at the Pemberton Inn. Miss John G. Dossing, of Danvers and Hull, has been appointed chairman of the dance. The Cecilian Guild, which is a social and musical organization, will have a special program of music as in charge of Jack Marchand and his orchestra. Mrs. Dossing is vice-president of the Guild and will be assisted by other officers and an active committee to be announced at a later date.

Fashion Show

The Hathory Country Club, at North Scituate, put on a "fashion in style" yesterday afternoon. To greet all good charitable face were women at one of the most successful fashion shows and better yet, the benefit of the year. The Hathory Country Club, at North Scituate, put on a "fashion in style" yesterday afternoon. To greet all good charitable face were women at one of the most successful fashion shows and better yet, the benefit of the year.

Gay garden prime, both large and small sport frocks in rain-bow colors... sweetest of all, pinky collars and gingham and crisp organdies worn by the sweetest, all made visible color... a soft green carpet of lawn.

The Misses Louise, Mary and Emily were hostesses in flower print chiffons and large black hats. We were greeted by Mrs. G. V. Watterdoff in a floral print dress with a delicate pleated collar and picture belt, modeling the models to be dressed. Mrs. John A. Beardon, Jr., was present in the blue emerald brocade and white hat and Mrs. R. F. Sherman of Lowell in a dress of ivory tulle over the crowd.

Always present for guest chairs, Mrs. Vincent P. Roberts of Boston and North Scituate, seated in cool green seersucker with Mrs. Robert in blue and white, very pretty in chiffon print and Mrs. J. W. O'Keefe of Chestnut Hill, in the intricate black and white and Mrs. Paul Waters of North Scituate in frothy white.

Quite a stunning model was the ensemble worn by Mrs. James R. Everett of Turin, Mass. She wore a dress of rich tulle with clusters of orchids and Mrs. J. W. O'Keefe in all white as partner. All are from Winchester. The guests of Mrs. Thomas F. Hearn of Dorchester included

Schubert Music On Program

Boston's F. E. R. A. symphony orchestra, conducted by Will Dodge, will give another Sunday afternoon concert at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts tomorrow. The following program will be played:

1. Overture, Rosamunde, Schubert.
 2. La Nut et l'Amour from "Lulus Pro Patria," Holmes.
 3. Waltz, Gold and Silver, Lehár.
 4. Symphonie Militaire, Haydn. Adagio, Allegro, Allegretto, Menetto Presto.
 5. Serenade Pierre.
 6. Selections from Blossom Time, Romberg.
 7. Dance Macabre, Saint-Saens.
 8. Mock Morris, Grainger.
 9. Clair de Lune (arr. Semler), Debussy.
 10. Suite from the Ballet, Sylvia, Delibes. e. Valse Loka.
 11. Piano Solo, e. Marche and Procession of Barchusa.
- These Sunday concerts, made possible by the Federal Employment Relief Administration for unemployed musicians, continue to draw large audiences at the Museum.

Mrs. Gertrude Abbott and Mrs. John J. Ryan of Peabody. Many out of town guests attended. We saw Mrs. William H. Bowen, of Lynn, whose two daughters were in the fashion show, and Mrs. Rose McBride of Lowell.

Tipping down the runway, Miss Eleanor Sullivan was twinkling in a white chiffon evening gown with dark blue dots over which she wore a Slouen emerald coat with a Russian sable collar. Miss Marjorie Sullivan wore a black silk lace with long train topped with a short evening band. Danny Ellen Schott wore a navy blue dress with white polka dots. Miss Florence Harter in turquoise blue sports appeared. Frances Shaw in a white sport dress with edging of dark blue.

Lemon Polka Dots

John Sawyer made a perfect model... costume of lemon polka dots and evening cape of intricate knishy.

A white flannel swagger suit with gayly beaded top and large red picture hat adorned Elizabeth Beardon's dark curls... followed by Alice Lyons in pink candy striped cotton with dark blue belt and dark blue hat... quite unusual. Miss Betty and Miss Mary Bowen, both attractive blondes, displayed several modes... A stunning black frock, four length, with swing of lipstick red, lining the open sleeves and a double bow scarf. Mrs. B. Bates of North Scituate, Miss Mary.

Miss Mary Broderick received much applause for a costume of deep brown net with tiny ruffles. Mary is just the type for ruffles... and the last glimpse we caught was of Betty Crosby in light and dark blue printed suit with a shallow crowned smart blue hat.

Mrs. Fitzroy Kelly of Newbury street, and Mrs. Cushing of Brookline, are at Belmont. Mrs. Harwick, Mrs. Kelly has as her guest, Mrs. W. B. Bates of Green street, San Francisco, Cal.

Program for Esplanade

The program which Arthur Fowler and his orchestra will render at the Esplanade concert tomorrow evening at 8:30 p. m. is as follows:

- 1. Overture, "The Merry Widow"
- 2. Selections from "The Merry Widow"
- 3. Selections from "The Merry Widow"
- 4. Selections from "The Merry Widow"
- 5. Selections from "The Merry Widow"
- 6. Selections from "The Merry Widow"

Cape Summer Society to Hold Luncheons Next Week In Arranging Fete

ONE OF THE MOST colorful affairs of the Cape summer season is the annual fete on the Falmouth village green for the District Nursing Association. It is being arranged for August 2 and will be preceded by several luncheons given by some of the summer colony members next week.

On the long list of committees in charge of the District Nursing Association Fete are many summer residents from around Boston. Miss Jane Garfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McD. Garfield, of Marlborough street, has been named as assistant to Mrs. Paul A. Peters, the general chairman.

Other committee heads are Mrs. Frederick Dumaine, Jr., Mrs. Leslie P. Wallace, Mrs. H. W. L. Fox, Mrs. Arthur W. Butt, Mrs. Franklin King, Mrs. James T. Johnston, Mrs. Garfield, Mrs. N. B. Knouse Brooks, Mrs. Worthington Campbell, Miss Anita Lumbcomb, and Miss Marjorie Welch.

South Shore Players

THE SOUTH SHORE PLAYERS are to omit their Thursday performance on July 26, in order that the annual Pop Concert in aid of the First Church may be given as usual, in the Cohasset Town Hall.

These concerts which have been under the leadership of Mr. Donald Gammons, for the past 10 years have been annual events for over 25 years and are eagerly looked forward to, by South Shore residents.

A large amateur orchestra will play two excerpts from the "Petite Suite" by Debussy, a selection from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," the "Salut's Dance" from "The Red Poppy" by the Russian composer Gliere, the intermezzi from "Goyenkas" by Granados, "Tales from the Vienna Woods," by Johann Strauss and a brilliant arrangement by Ferde Grofe of the "Malignance" by Lecocq.

Mr. George Mills White, Jr., tenor, will be the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Walter P. Mulher, Mr. White, a pupil of Carl Lamson has sung with the People's Symphony Orchestra and as guest artist, with the Metropolitan Opera.

Miss Phyllis Churchill and Miss Mary Gammons have charge of the corps of waitresses which includes Virginia Tolman, Peggy Hall, Mary Wilson, Cornelia Menard, Elizabeth Washburn, Mary Helen and Lillian Davidson, Eleanor Glendon, Patty Paulson, Elizabeth and Emily Osborn, Virginia Furber, Louise Ordway, Eleanor Johnson, Edna Hargis, and Mrs. Mitchell, Edith Allen, Betty Piepenbrink, Jean Bates, Polly Long, John Chapin, Nancy Ordway, Olivia Vogel and Charlotte Curtis. The cigarette girls are Dorothea Dean, Mary McElwain, and Alma Bird. Mrs. Willard S. Putnam has charge of the candy and Mrs. Ralph Menard, the arrangement of the tables. Additional patronesses are Mrs. Hugh Bancroft, Mrs. Ralph B. Williams, Mrs. C. Griggs Plant, Miss Margaret Rathbone, Miss Mabel Bowman, Miss Edith Pratt, Mrs. George Crafts, Mrs. Samuel Johnson, Mrs. Burgess Tower, Mrs. Everett W. Given in Marriage

By Adele Garrison

With the arrival of Philip Veritex at the wedding, Mary came rushing up to him and, with a prospective father-in-law, she withdrew all opposition to the wedding.

CHAPTER 9

I SPENT VERY little time in preparation for meeting Philip Veritex. I hastily brushed my hair and slipped into an informal dinner dress of dark blue crepe. As I went into the hall Mary came rushing up to me. Before Lillian had taken me upstairs I had told her and Noel of the impending visit, but from her excited, apprehensive face, I guessed that the interval of waiting had frayed her nerve instead of smoothing it.

"Oh, Auntie Madge," she said, clutching my arm. "How do you suppose he'll act? You can't imagine how sort of nervous I am. Not just as bad, although he's trying to appear very dignified, and I don't dare show him how frightened I am. He's nervous enough already at his father for the things he's tried to pull. I'm afraid if he should guess how I feel, he'd say something to him that would throw the wedding right into the air."

I took her trembling hands in mine and laughed deliberately at her.

TO PAY THE AMABLE PARENT

"I never dreamed you'd get the wrong end of a prospective father-in-law," I told her severely. "Especially one who appears ready to do the same to me as he's doing to you. When I talked to him over the telephone he was most 'scintillatingly cordial'—he said that he really had been in to the wedding and that you've got to blame him for feeling of kind at it."

"On the contrary," Mary said, "that's distinctly encouraging—showing that he's really interested in me. I really thought he'd treat the whole affair with lofty indifference. I do hope you're right." Mary said, "My dear child, I made my voice as impressive as possible. He'll not only be decent, he'll be magnificent. If he intended being unreasonable he would have stayed away altogether. As long as he's accepted our invitation to dinner, depend upon it he'll play the game. He may have accepted the marriage plan because we forced his hand, but nobody will dream of that from his behavior."

"I hope you're right," Mary said, "I'm positively sure he'll make it seem possible that he's really given in, and that the wedding is done so amicably because of his behavior."

"Your imagination is running away with you," I told her severely. "Went you believe we were going to have a prospective father-in-law? Veritex would have no move to postpone or break up your wedding."

"I'll take what you say," she said, "but I'll be damned if I don't tell Noel what you say. Poor fellow, he's in a bit of a fix, though we've both been throwing the opinion at each other."

"Run along," I told her, "and don't delay coming down stairs. You don't want to appear nervous in respect to your future dad."

WILL VERITEX GO THROUGH

"We'll be there in a minute," she said, "and I'll be damned if I don't tell Noel what you say. Poor fellow, he's in a bit of a fix, though we've both been throwing the opinion at each other."

"Run along," I told her, "and don't delay coming down stairs. You don't want to appear nervous in respect to your future dad."

THEIR IS THE BRIDE

"The results show her hand," Mary said, "and I'll be damned if I don't tell Noel what you say. Poor fellow, he's in a bit of a fix, though we've both been throwing the opinion at each other."

"Run along," I told her, "and don't delay coming down stairs. You don't want to appear nervous in respect to your future dad."

GOLF BATTLE AT PAWTUCKET

TUESDAY FOR RACES

By Bill Grimes

The fact that a golf battle will be fought at Pawtucket on Tuesday is a fact that is not likely to be forgotten by the many who are interested in the sport. The battle will be fought between the juniors and the seniors, and it is expected that it will be a very close one.

THE WRONG SISTER

Today, duckily enough, as still another day, I don't know who to choose this afternoon, so I will choose the wrong sister.

Government Is Partly Blame for Big Depressants

By HUGH F. BRADSHAW

The hard-headed stock market player is that if so many of the railroads are in such a state of financial distress, it is not because of the depression, but because of the government's policy of subsidizing them. STOCKS STEADY AFTER EARLY WEAKNESS

New York, July 21.—The stock market rose into further selling in a quiet session, bringing forward a small decline in the main body of issues.

Pressure was most pronounced in the opening when an accumulation of overnight selling orders brought issues running to a point in some instances. Once the opening in the afternoon was cleared, the trend of the day showed some tendency to steady, but made no real attempt to rally.

Weakness in stocks was ignored by the commodity markets. Coffee, however, as traders who had gone short yesterday covered their positions, and the market rose to a similar advance in the main body of the day.

Most covering appeared to be the result of a temporary increase in the demand for coffee, which was reported at the New York Coffee Exchange. The market for the commodity was quiet, but the price of the coffee was reported to have advanced a point and a half, while the price of the coffee was reported to have advanced a point and a half.

Within the stock market, the decline in the price of the commodity was reported to have advanced a point and a half, while the price of the commodity was reported to have advanced a point and a half.

The cotton textile industry is reported to have advanced a point and a half, while the price of the commodity was reported to have advanced a point and a half.

General Motors and Chrysler were heavy receding fractionally on a small rally.

Mining shares were depressed under the lead of United States Steel, which was reported to have advanced a point and a half.

MAYOR PLEDGES PROVINCE RUM CLEAN STAGE RING TRAILED

Appointment of an agent in Massachusetts with full authority to insure the release of nothing but clean motion pictures is added by the province's Department of Forestry in a letter to Will Hay ("raz" of the motion picture industry).

At the same time, Mayor Mansfield has named William J. Barry, president of the local branch of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, to head the committee that will insist upon having "an absolutely clean stage in Boston" and that "the city should have all kinds of entertainment including clean stage and the burlesque houses."

Langone Protests U. S. Loan for Terminal Work

State Senator Joseph Langone of Boston in a letter to Harold S. Jukes, Federal Public Works Administrator, has protested the proposed loan of 29 million dollars to the International Terminal Corporation, a Boston organization, on the grounds that the usual volume of shipping commerce in Boston would not cover the yearly interest on the loan.

The loan was applied for to be

X-SEAS OFFERED FIRST TICKETS

In the vicinity of congregation at the pier on Monday, the Club of the Secret Agent N. B. Clark, with the forecast for which he is famous, has arranged for a little service for club members.

Instead of waiting until they reach Commercial wharf, from where the Cape Cod Steamship Boat will leave on the special rate ticket to Provincetown on Monday, Secret Agents may obtain their tickets in advance by calling at the company's offices, 11 State street, from today on.

This, as the Secret Agents know, may be taken at half rate by club members on the showing of their badge and membership card in company with the adult who is to accompany you on the trip. Show your badge and membership card and you will get your Secret Agent ticket for $10.00, $20.00, and the adult with you will get one at half rate for $5.00. Those who do not get their tickets in advance may get them at the dock on Monday, prior to the sailing at 10:15 a. m.
